

HAPPY DAY FOR 3000 CHILDREN

Little Playground Folk Will Be Entertained Wednesday at Koerner's Garden.

Mrs. Stephen Sheldon, assisted by a trained nurse from the Baptist Sanitarium, gave the mothers of the Shields playground a practical demonstration of bathing and caring for babies in hot weather yesterday.

Mrs. Sheldon and the nurse were equipped with a complete infant's outfit and selected a 4-month-old boy for the first demonstration.

Before a delighted audience of mothers the babe was deftly bathed in the proper manner, powdered, dressed in dainty clothes, and cool and radiant the child was returned to the proud mother, a perfect picture of comfort and content.

A pretty little girl of 3 years, whose face was broken out from the heat, was next ministered to, and the demonstration was as effective as the first.

So pleased were the mothers with the lessons that all would have availed themselves of the kindly ministrations had it been possible.

Wednesday afternoon all the children of the seven vacation grounds will be the

PEACE IN DANVILLE.

Excitement Following Lynching Seems to Have Subsided.

DANVILLE, Ill., July 28.—The excitement over the lynching of the negro Metcalf seems to have subsided entirely and affairs today have resumed a normal condition. Two companies of the Seventh regiment are still here but there has been no friction between the soldiers and townspeople since Sunday.

CAR SERVICE WILL BE IMPROVED

Suburban Will Reconstruct Tracks to Normandie and Arrange New Sunday Schedule.

It was announced Tuesday that the Suburban railway track from the Suburban Garden to Normandie and Florissant will be reconstructed, and that the work will begin in the near future.

The management of the Suburban system has under consideration a plan of double-tracking the road all the way to Florissant. At present there is only a single track.

The management is also planning to increase the car service to Meramec Highlands on Sundays and holidays. It is explained that as soon as sufficient power and enough cars can be secured, the service to the Highlands will be increased sufficiently to prevent overcrowding on Sundays and holidays. It is not the company's plan to increase the service on work days.

Persons Both in and Out of St. Louis Take an Interest in the Strange Case of Clark.

Many letters have been received and a number of personal calls made suggesting remedies for the relief of John Clark, who still suffers with the hiccoughs at the City Hospital.

Under the influence of sedatives, Clark has been able to sleep, and his condition is now so much improved that he can take solid food.

His attacks of hiccoughs are now less frequent and the physician in charge of his case says the hiccoughs will soon cease altogether.

Although many of the remedies proposed for Clark's case by those who came to the hospital to see him were foolish and were not tried by the authorities, an interest was shown in the case by persons in every walk of life. A carriage stopped at the institution Sunday and a handomely dressed woman asked the doorman to tell the superintendent of a cure that had been used in her family. It consisted in drinking lithia water to the exclusion of all other liquids. This cure was not tried.

A street car conductor called Saturday evening to suggest that Clark stick his fingers in his ears and drink as much water as he possibly could. This remedy had been tried with great success in his own case, the informant said. The car conductor must be in minute pieces and an interval elapse between doses. This remedy had been prescribed by the family physician of one of the most prominent physicians of St. Louis.

One of the remedies proposed by the St. Louis physicians was a good remedy in the shape of a mustard plaster applied to the abdominal region. This had proved eminently successful in many cases that had come under the observation of the physician. It was not tried on Clark, as the ice bags used on his chest might interfere with the action of the mustard plaster.

Inhalation of amylin nitrate was another cure proposed by a woman living on East Grand avenue. A few drops of the nitrate applied to a handkerchief and constantly inhaled had cured an acquaintance. Amylin nitrate is a substance of a pleasing odor, but it is not tried on Clark, as he was not recovering.

Several letters were received from physicians who for the most part suggested a treatment identical with that used by the hospital physicians. One of the remedies proposed by Dr. H. M. Smith, who had cured a case of hiccoughs that had come to the doctor in the last stage of collapse after eight days of hiccoughs, was the use of muriate of picrocarpine. St. Louis physicians showed great interest in the case, and Dr. Van Hook, who has given his personal attention to Clark, has been stopped on the street several times by doctors who wished to know how the "hiccough man" was getting along.

EDWARD IN IRELAND.

British Ruler Greeted by the People of Londonderry.

LONDONDERRY, Ireland, July 28.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra were accorded a great reception on their arrival here today. Large crowds from the surrounding districts assembled to greet the first English sovereign who had ever visited Londonderry. Their majesties were met at the railroad station by the mayor and corporation. The usual number of addresses were presented, replying to which the King expressed his pleasure at the references to the spirit of good feeling and harmony pervading all classes in Ireland, adding that if his visit helped to extend and consolidate this feeling he would be richly rewarded.

NAPHTHA LAUNCH AS AN AMBULANCE

Stricken Man Towed Two Miles in the Dark to a Physician.

Henry Gantt, son of Judge James B. Gantt, and Milo Heinrichs, until recently a resident of Jefferson City, organized themselves into an aquatic ambulance brigade at Creve Coeur Lake, to place Thomas Dugan where he could obtain medical aid.

When Gantt and Heinrichs went to the boathouse Sunday night to take a last cruise on the naphtha launch they found Dugan unconscious on the dock. With him were two young women who did not know what to do. There was no physician and Gantt proposed that Dugan be taken in the launch to the train.

Placing the sick, and to all appearances, dying man in a barge, they started to tow him to the station, two miles away. Gantt and Heinrichs stayed on board the barge to look after Dugan, while the engineer and the young women occupied the launch.

In midlake Dugan became violent and tried to throw his nurses overboard. The volunteer Red Cross workers held on and succeeded in overpowering the sick man.

When the station was reached, a physician happened to be there and he quieted Dugan with morphine. Gantt and Heinrichs did not abandon the sick man there, but came with him to St. Louis and had him taken to the Missouri Pacific Hospital, where his ailment was diagnosed as heart trouble.

Physicians say he will recover.

Both young men were well used up by their struggles to prevent Dugan from harming himself, and both doctors and a physician against further Samaritan work if it is to be done in total darkness on board a Creve Coeur Lake barge.

Consul Long Dead.

LONDON, July 28.—John G. Long, United States consul general at Cairo, Egypt, died this morning at Dunbar, Scotland, aged 62. He had been in Scotland since his death was the result of an accidental fall.

BOY PARRICIDE UNREPENTANT

Frank Gregory Says Killing of Parent Was an Accident, but Does Not Pretend to Regret Death.

Frank Gregory, who is held by the verdict of the coroner's jury on the charge of murdering his father, Clark Gregory, at the Advance Elevator, in East St. Louis, Sunday, now says that the killing was accidental. He declares that he was trying to extract a shell from his rifle when it was discharged. The jury asked him why he displayed so little sorrow.

"There's no use in crying over spilled milk," he replied.

Two negroes, Henry Silas and Bud Davis, testified that they were sitting on a lumber pile near the elevator when the tragedy occurred. Young Gregory, they testified, shot first into the ground, and when his father remonstrated fired at him twice.

Policemen who arrested Gregory and his companion, Charles Shields, testified that young Gregory declared to them immediately after the shooting that he had killed his father purposely because of his treatment. Try the Bitters.

Shields testified that he was about 25 feet away at the time of the shooting, but that he did not know anything about it. He was held to the grand jury as an accessory.

LADIES TOOK THE STRIKERS' PLACES

Obstreperous Negroes Could Not Mar Success of Post-Dispatch Excursion.

The managers of the Post-Dispatch Fresh Air Fund do not believe in dirt, and when the colored help on board the City of Providence went on a strike at Monticello, the ladies in charge of the Monday outing turned to and put the boat into a clean state for the trip home.

Upstairs of the quarters set apart for the committee by the friend of one of the helpers, started the trouble. All the deck hands quit, and the mates turned in and did duty as roustabouts. The boat was short-handed, but Capt. Thorowgen insisted that he had a right to run the boat to suit himself, and all the disaffected negroes were allowed to take their clothes and gear ashore, where they boarded the train for St. Louis.

Some of the strikers were at the landing when the boat came in, waiting to be taken back, but Capt. Thorowgen drew the dead line at the outer end of the gang plank and refused to listen to excuses.

This slight drawback did not prevent the excursion from being a success. It was the fourth of the nine outings planned by the committee to buy 2000 pounds of ice for the smaller ice companies the committee have to buy 2000 pounds of ice for each trip, which is additional expense in the season.

The society urged upon all who can afford it to put time or two in the rectangles provided.

Capt. Thorowgen

Complimented Ladies.

Those in charge of the outing were: Mrs. Eldman and Obrock, assisted by Nurses Scholtz and Rutherford of St. Luke's Hospital, Misses Beckman, Scholtz, Peters, Chas. Eberhard and Gerstorf, Misses Nopp, Lauterbach, Schleuter, Tolk, Puchman, Jansen, Rappert, Richard, Rauschhaupt, Harpen, Foster and Mr. Edmund Rander.

All were kept busy looking after the welfare of the children, many of whom came without parents, and all were swarmed about the boat playing such games as can be played in a limited space. The crowd on the boat lent an added excitement to a game of the party, which was the last of the season.

The strike created only a ripple on the welfare of the children, many of whom came without parents, and all were swarmed about the boat playing such games as can be played in a limited space. The crowd on the boat lent an added excitement to a game of the party, which was the last of the season.

The ladies who took charge of the cleaning were tired in the shoulders from weeding the broom and dishcloths out of the trunk.

The party went ashore the captain thanked his amateur help and said that the boat had never looked cleaner before.

RICKER RETURNS AND IS ILL

Bank Clerk Who Left Home Under Unaccountable Impulse Will Be Treated in Sanatorium.

Relatives of Frank H. Ricker of Kirkwood, correspondent of the National Broom and Dishcloth Co., who was missing for 10 days, say he will probably be sent to a sanatorium to recover from the nervous breakdown he suffered over his wife's health and to overcome his own illness.

Mr. Ricker returned Monday night, accompanied by his brother, Ira, from Portland, Ore., where he had been for some time, and his appearance and his own story of his actions during the missing period have caused relatives and friends to believe that he needs a period of complete rest under medical treatment.

His story of his disappearance, as told by his brother, who met him in Denver, is when he journeyed to Portland through an unaccountable and uncontrollable impulse to travel.

A desire to hear from St. Louis led him a few days later to buy a St. Louis paper, and he read the story of his disappearance with little concern until he came to a paragraph telling of his wife's ill health. He immediately telephoned to his brother, and when the answer informed him of the birth of a daughter, started for his home.

SIXTH TOY PISTOL FATALITY.

Wound in Hand Causes Death of Little Edwin Weiss.

Edwin D. Weiss, the little son of Joseph Weiss of 2421 South Compton avenue, is the sixth recorded victim in St. Louis and the ninety-ninth in the United States of the fatal Fourth of July toy pistol.

Edwin was wounded in the fleshy part of the hand and had apparently almost recovered when tetanus developed. Anti-tetanic serum failed to stop the progress of the disease, and death resulted after much suffering. Two other cases of tetanus are reported in St. Louis, but the patients are expected to recover.

Court Rewards Filial Tasks.

The probate court at Clayton has allowed Mrs. Josephine Remming, who lives near Baden, $1000 from the estate of her father, Leopold Remming, who died in 1928, for her services as his housekeeper for 10 years after he reached the age of 18 and before he married. An appeal will be taken by the other heirs, Mrs. Remming was not remembered in his will, and she is expected to be, and filed a claim for $1500.

"Flyer" in a Collision.

A broken switch caused a St. Louis, Keokuk & Northwestern switch engine, hauling a string of freight cars to run into the engine of the Wabash "Flyer" near Florida street and the Terminal tracks Monday evening. Both engines were derailed, the switch engine being turned over. None of the trainmen were hurt. Miss Hannah Collins of 4738 Woodlawn avenue, Chicago, and her sister, Miss Mary A. Collins, who were coming to St. Louis to visit their aunt, Mrs. J. Roche of 2304 Scott avenue, were considerably bruised.

Whitecotton Predicts Folk.

James H. Whitecotton, speaker of the 80th House of Representatives, and recently prospective candidate for governor, found an ideal strong box, for he argued that the trousers were so worthless that they should be outlawed. Now he is looking for the trousers. Someone got into the Whitecotton home while he was looking for the trousers and he left the "worthless" trousers with him.

Bag-Hidden Treasure Stolen.

Michael Gibatelin of 1510 Carr street thought when he put a fine watch, two gold chains and a diamond earring and some other jewelry into the pockets of a ragged old woman named Mrs. Now he found an ideal strong box, for he argued that the trousers were so worthless that they should be outlawed. Now he is looking for the trousers. Someone got into the Whitecotton home while he was looking for the trousers and he left the "worthless" trousers with him.

WOMAN HURT IN CYCLE WHIRL

Serious Accident Marks the Close of the Carnival at Edwardsville.

Whirling around in the dizzy pace of the cycle whirl Madame Helene, whose name in private life is Mrs. Wilson, was projected with frightful force to the bottom of the platform Sunday night at Edwardsville, and crushed beneath the weight of her husband and his bicycle.

The accident was the closing feature of the Red Men and Firemen's carnival, which had been running for a week. The perpendicular cycle whirl by "Cyclone" and his wife was one of the most taking features of the fourteen in the Cosmopolitan Carnival Co., and the last night crowd clamored for a repetition.

The act was put on for the last time, and the three performers were wheeling at high speed when the signal to zig-zag was given. Madame Helene's wheel wavered a moment and jammed that of her husband. In a moment the two riders and their machines were in a wreck on the platform. The young woman was carried to the Palace of Mystery, where she was yesterday for White Hall. It was said that the young woman, who had been one of the cleverest in the profession, would probably never ride again.

COUNTY RUNNING ON "TICK."

According to Treasurer Wolf, St. Clair County, Ill., must do business on credit until September. There is no money in the county's strong box, and there will be none until the returns from the new tax levy begin to come in.

The officials will not have to wait for their salaries, however, as they propose to hold out enough of the fees that come from their offices to pay themselves and their clerks. Treasurer Wolf says he has been asked to advance the county on a fund of only $50,000, the total amount that remained in the treasury after he called in the outstanding warrants when he went into office.

PIETRO'S CHANCE TO BE THE NEXT POPE IMPROVING

Of All the Candidates Mentioned for the Great Honor He Is the Only One Upon Whom the Many Hostile Factions Can Agree.

RAMPOLLA IS HIS SPONSOR AND GOTTI IS FRIENDLY

If None of the More Conspicuous Aspirants Can Be Elected Conditions Will Favor the Elevation of Leo's Aged Prodigy.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch. (Copyright, 1903, by the Press Publishing Co.) ROME, July 28.—Cardinal Angelo di Pietro is being pushed now by some Italians as a compromise candidate for Pope, if Oreglia, Gotti, Rampolla or Serafino Vanuttelli fail to get the needed support, as now seems likely. His chance is improving daily.

He was 75 years old in May. Is a native of Vivaro, in the diocese of Tivoli, and was Leo XIII's prodigy, an official who has charge of the business relating to grants and dispositions, and who dates and registers important documents.

He represents the Gotti-Rampolla party, but it is said that if elected he would be acceptable to all.

His age is favorable to his candidacy, as the young candidates, who have little hope of election, believe he cannot live long and that his early death will give them another chance to win the rich prize.

Of all the candidates, he is the only one upon whom the conflicting factions can agree.

Cardinal Rampolla is his sponsor. Rampolla favors Pietro above all others if he cannot get it himself.

Fifty-two of the sixty-four cardinals attended the meeting of the sacred college today, and it is said to be now practically certain that all will be present at the conclave except Moran of Australia, who cannot reach here in time, and Cardinal Celsi, who is too ill.

If that proves true 62 cardinals will take part and the vote of 42 will be necessary to elect a Pope.

The cardinals took up the question of sending a note to the powers regarding the occupation of pontifical territory by Italy, but no decision was reached.

Requests from Cardinals Langenieux and Mocenni, who are ill, for apartments on the second floor of the Sixtine chapel, in order to avoid the stairs, were granted.

In view of the extreme heat, it was decided to celebrate mass in the Pauline chapel early and to finish the morning balloting in the Sixtine chapel by 11 o'clock.

If cardinals desire to celebrate mass in their own cells they may do so, small portable wood altars having been made for that purpose.

All Will Be Ready
Friday Night.

Assurances have been given that everything will be in readiness for the conclave by Friday night, but much is yet to be done.

The Sixtine chapel will be used for meetings and the balloting. There, after three solemn funeral services which began today, will be erected a throne for each cardinal.

Over the thrones will be baldachins, or canopies, attached to the wall behind. The moment a new pope is elected he will lower his baldachin as a token of his new dignity.

Cardinal Gibbons attended the meeting of cardinals today. His reception by his colleagues was exceptionally cordial.

When the lots for apartments were drawn Cardinal Gibbons drew No. 5, the modest apartment of Commander Puccinelli, the master of the house.

It is a few steps up from the ground floor on the left of the noble staircase, entering from the court of San Damasco. It is lighted with electricity and with a full southern exposure, probably will be very warm.

The cardinal's sleeping room, 1441 feet, is decorated with ordinary yellowish gray paper, contains a small black iron bed, a marble top dressing table, a small writing desk, an arm chair, an iron clothes stand, a little high movable mirror framed in iron and wood and a prie dieu. Over the bed hangs a picture of the Madonna.

Adjoining this is the room of his conclavist, Father Gavan. It is smaller, with about the same furniture, except that the chairs are more simple, with cane bottoms, and it has a mirror and clothes press fastened to the wall.

A smaller room, with a camp bed, is for the servant.

The fourth room will be of little use, as it has no window.

During the conclave each cardinal will have four rooms—a bedroom for himself, one for his conclavist, one for his secretary and a room to be used for dining or reception.

To Italian reporter, who interviewed him, Cardinal Gibbons said:

It is an important fact that now for the first time an American cardinal takes part in a conclave. In the future I believe America will be represented by the importance of the United States in the Catholic world.

The new Pope will have his attention called to two questions—democracy and socialism. In which evanescent services have been held at 365 Olive street. It has been decided to change the name to "Tent Roosevelt." The fact that Luncheon was served to President Roosevelt in this tent at the World's Fair dedicated led to the original name.

To Reclaim Arid Lands.
DENVER, July 28.—The expenditure of millions of dollars by the United States government for the reclamation of hundreds of thousands of acres of arid lands in the great West, is the subject of discussion among engineers of the government reclamation service, now in session in Denver.

The conclusions of this conference will be reported to Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock by Chief Engineer F. H. Newell and orders for active work will then be given.

BOUND WOMAN DEFIES THIEVES

Though Helpless and Threatened With Torture She Refused to Reveal Where Money Is Hidden.

GOSHEN, Conn., July 28.—Bound hand and foot to her bed between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock Sunday morning, Mrs. A. Morse, an aged woman who resides in this place, passed fearfully at two masked men and absolutely refused to give them any information which might lead to the discovery of plunder.

The men entered Mrs. Morse's room without awakening her, and before she could make any movement, they bound her to the bed posts with ropes. Then one drew a pistol and threatened to shoot her unless she gave them the desired information.

When threats failed the robbers made preparations to torture Mrs. Morse by burning the soles of her feet, but the discovery of $25 in a box under the bed, and a dresser in the room turned them from the purpose.

In another part of the house they found Mrs. Patrick Turner. They bound her also and threatened to shoot her if she revealed the whereabouts of the money. She bravely defied them, and the men, evidently believing was all that could be secured, and leaving the bound woman helplessly bound, they went away. The two women succeeded in freeing themselves an hour after the departure of the burglars. Both are suffering severely from their experience.

THE CATARRH A COMMON COMPLAINT.

Catarrh begins with a stubborn cold in the head, inflammation or soreness of the membrane or lining of the nose, discharge of mucus matter, headaches, neuralgia and difficult breathing, and even in this early stage is almost intolerable. But when the filthy secretions begin to drop back into the throat and stomach, and the blood becomes polluted and the whole system contaminated by the catarrhal poison, then the sufferer begins to realize what a disgusting and disgusting odor, and I coughed incessantly. I heard of S. S. S. and commenced to use it and after taking several bottles I was cured and have never since had the slightest symptom of the disease.

Northwest Cor. 7th and Felix Sts., St. Joseph, Mo.

I had a continual headache, my cheeks had grown purple, my nose was always stopped up, my throat was sore and I coughed incessantly. I heard of S. S. S. and commenced to use it and after taking several bottles I was cured and have never since had the slightest symptom of the disease.

Northwest Cor. 7th and Felix Sts., St. Joseph, Mo.

It is a constitutional disease and as inhaling mixtures, salves, ointments, etc., are never more than palliative or helpful, even in the beginning of Catarrh, what can you expect from such treatment when it becomes chronic and the whole system affected? Only such a remedy as S. S. S. can reach this obstinate, deep-seated disease and purge the blood of the catarrhal poison. S. S. S. purifies and builds up the diseased blood, and the inflamed membranes are healed and the excessive secretion of mucus ceases when new, rich blood is coming to the diseased parts, and a permanent cure is the result.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and harmless and a reliable remedy for Catarrh in all stages. Write if in need of medical advice or special information; this will cost you nothing.

The collar comes close together in front, it keeps the tie in place and you don't see the cut-out part. Besides the tie is retained just over the button, which is also kept out of sight. ## IS PERRY HEATH PROTECTED?

On July 31 Perry Heath will become immune from prosecution for acts committed while serving as first assistant postmaster-general. On that day three years ago he left the postal service, and the statute of limitations interposes a bar.

The report that the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General was called to Oyster Bay and instructed not to institute proceedings against Heath because of his association with the Republican National Committee as Secretary, is almost incredible. If Mr. Roosevelt has listened to the "earnest pleadings" of Senator Hanna, Postmaster-General Payne and others "and arbitrarily held up" the process of justice, he has disappointed men of all parties who have looked upon him as a man of sterling integrity not to be influenced by considerations of partisan politics.

Why should a man be protected by a Republican administration because he occupies a position in the party organization? If he has violated the law "good politics" would seem to require his prosecution. A party can hardly carry such a load of scandal, and the sooner it rid itself of the offender the better will be its standing before the voters.

This is, at least, the view hitherto attributed to Mr. Roosevelt. He identified himself with the cause of honest administration of the public service and was a conspicuous advocate of the merit system. Has the humming of the bee deafened him to the demands of his old-time principles?

If Perry Heath has been saved by executive favor springing from consideration of partisan expediency, the Republican party will be put on the defensive and it will not be able to justify itself to the minds of reasonable and level-headed voters.

The Missourian is jealous of his rights, notwithstanding that his partisanship has often led him astray.

IDYLIC CHARITY.

No better subject for a poet's pen could be found than the pastoral romance of the Salvation Army Babies and their Cow, recently told in the Post-Dispatch. Elizabeth Barrett Browning sung of the working children, amid whirling wheels, a prey to greed. And many poets have dealt with the sad tale of child life in the great cities. Now let some one sing of the achievements of modern charity and publicity in relieving distress among children. Here are the facts:

The Salvation Army found a number of babies in the slums of St. Louis, panting and dying for want of fresh air and pure milk. The "ladies" of the Army took the babies out to Old Orchard, where cows are as plentiful as dogs on Bidde street. The babies were now assured of fresh air and all the delights of country life. But a cow that should belong to the babies, always at hand to give the life fluid necessary for their health and growth, was wanting. The need was made known through the Post-Dispatch, and in two or three days its child readers contributed more than enough to buy a fine "bossey" for the little forlorn babies out among the green trees and fields of Old Orchard. And so these little ones are assured of plenty of wholesome milk. They will grow fat and hearty and may become good citizens.

It is a pretty story, full of human interest and touched with romance. The child readers of the Post-Dispatch not only enjoy its pages day by day; they are ready to take their part in its public service when there is need for their aid.

THE TEST OF EFFICIENCY.

The circumstances of the collision between the East St. Louis and Suburban trolley car and a Vandallia accommodation suggest the need of a vigorous inquiry into the test of efficiency employed by electric transit companies.

The motorman and conductor seem to have been in a dream, they let the car reach the track at full speed without taking the least precaution against trains which had the right of way. Although the train was in plain sight for a long distance, they did not see it until the crash came.

How did these men get their positions? What evidence had they given of their sobriety, steadiness, intelligence, etc.? What instructions had been given them concerning their duty? How long had they been in the service and what was their record?

The circumstances were so extraordinary that the managers of the electric line are put to the proof to show that they exercised due care in the employment of these men.

The 7000 feminine teachers of Kansas cannot be counted or married during the school term, and they complain bitterly. How does Kansas expect to ever have a supply of harvest hands if she is to persist in this form of racial suicide?

LITERARY PUGILISM.

Interesting news comes from the training quarters of pugilistic champion Jim Jeffries. It is reported that the mighty slugger remains in bed all day reading Voynich's "Gadfly." A striking innovation, this, in the methods of training for a fight battle, and we congratulate Champion Jeffries upon its discovery.

It has been felt all along that some new method was required to fit the contestants for these encounters, which are becoming more and more controversial in their character, and Jeffries seems to have devised the proper means. We say nothing as to his choice of a book. There are volumes, no doubt, that in their vigor of invective and force of denunciatory eloquence, might be more suited to the development of a pugilist's power of expression in dealing with his adversary, but Jeffries has doubtless made a study of the subject, and knows what he is about.

But he may fare ill at the hands of Jim Corbett. We have not heard who the real stable fighter is reading, but he is not to be taken lightly.

lane is somewhere in his vicinity. If he has employed Mary as one of his trainers, it is all off with Jeffries. He will faint with a three-syllable adjective, and follow it up with a general denunciation of the Delmar school of pugilism. But Corbett will dance away and uproot the boiler-maker with a fierce "sand and barrenness" roast. He will playfully land on the champion's solar plexus with a reference to his inartistic physical lines, and knock him out with his knowledge of the human digestive apparatus. Jeffries is doomed unless he takes up more vigorous literature than the "Gadfly."

Although the Supreme Court places itself above the Legislature it is not beyond the reach of the people. They can regulate it or vacate all its offices, as they have done several times in the past.

GANTT AND FOLK.

The following editorial paragraph from the Moberly Democrat represents the attitude of several papers in the interior of the State:

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch thinks that Judge Gantt, being a candidate for Governor, ought to resign his position as a member of the Supreme Court. At the same time the P-D sees nothing out of the way in the candidacy of Mr. Folk while he is still full panned in official armor.

The office of Circuit Attorney of St. Louis is not to be compared with that of Judge of the Supreme Court in point of dignity and importance, but the Post-Dispatch does not hesitate to say that if Circuit Attorney Folk enters the gubernatorial contest, particularly at this time when he is employed in investigating the corrupt work of State and city politicians, he will run great risk of impairing his usefulness and hampering his work as a public officer.

But there is this difference at present between Judge Gantt and Mr. Folk: Gantt has announced his candidacy and has entered upon an active campaign, while Folk has not announced his candidacy and declines to discuss politics in any form. No man is bound to renounce promotion merely because he holds an office, nor to prevent the press or public from discussing him as a possibility for an office, or from advocating his nomination. He can only keep his own record clean.

When Mr. Folk permits his ambition to interfere with his duty as Circuit Attorney the Post-Dispatch will not shrink from the duty of publishing and directing public attention to his delinquency.

The United States Government refuses to pay the carriage hire of "Private" John Allen, who had to have a carriage during the World's Fair dedication ceremonies. None of the other World's Fair commissioners will be treated any better in this respect than Mr. Allen. The law fixing compensation for World's Fair commissioners gives them $5000 a year, without mentioning cabs or carriages.

With an annual output of 15,800,000 tons of pigiron, and consumption even far greater than the output, there can be no doubt that there is something doing in the United States. No wonder Europeans are flocking to this country.

GEO. R.—Gasconade bridge accident, Thursday, Nov. 1, 1884. An excursion train on its way to the state capital to the celebration of the completion of the Missouri Pacific, and carrying railroad officials, mayor and city council of St. Louis, two military companies and a large number of prominent St. Louisans, fell through the bridge over Gasconade river. The bridge had not been fully completed. Locomotive, with all but in of fourteen cars, was precipitated into the river, thirty feet below. Killed outright, 25; seriously injured, more than 30. The crash was immediately followed by a heavy thunderstorm.

Mr. Cook Is "Done For."

From the Hibernianville (Mo.) Jeffersonian.

Sam Cook desires the sympathy of the public. He meant no harm by being a witness to the $5000 donated to Senator Lyons by Dick Speed. All the same Mr. Cook is "done for" in Missouri. No one connected with hoodlums can expect political success.

THE POST-DISPATCH DAILY MAGAZINE

SOLOS BY THE Second Fiddle

A Midsummer Homily.

Good people of your charity, Please let there be no rarity. When the mercury is frolicking around ninety in the shade:

For a sort of moral music Comes with atmosphere Satanic. And upsets the mental balance of matron, man and maid.

Amid such fierce torridity And general humidity, The stoutest resolutions must go certainly to rot.

And the very best of workers Become most arrant shirkers. And the brightest minds will utter some banalities and rot.

The laws of taste and beauty, And the rules of right and duty, Wax vague and dim, and misty when it's ninety in the shade;

And the maid ignores her frizzes, While the man takes to his frizzes, And there's the damning devil that is always to be paid!

All moral aristocracy Must yield to honest democracy. Let no man 'gainst his neighbor find his virtuous wrath arrayed.

For every man and woman, Is weak and hot and human, And any one may falter when it's ninety in the shade.

A Mistress' Stroke of Genius. A sort of mental asphyxiation afflicts the visions of men and women in viewing each other's activities, and each is incapable of quite comprehending the motives which actuate the other. Hence it is to be expected that any masculine guess haunted at the motives of those intelligent women of New York who propose to publish a daily paper will shoot somewhat wide of the mark.

Still, with the natural curiosity of their sex, men will speculate with regard to the various phases of this enterprise. What appears to be, to the masculine mind, the most remarkable feature of this proposed journal, is its announced method to avoid being "scopped." The founders declare that they will protect themselves against this terror of modern journalism by going to press two hours later than their contemporaries. It is a great plan.

It required the quick intuitive perceptions of woman to solve a problem that the logic of man has vainly wrestled with for years. To the feminine mind, the main desideratum of a successful paper is to get the latest news and retain it at the convenience. Male newsmongers have esteemed it necessary to get the latest news, and present it at the earliest opportunity. It will be seen that the wide latitude of time the ladies allow themselves gives them a decided advantage. True, their news when it arrives will for the most part be somewhat stale, other papers having published it two hours previously, but it will have a certain detail, an up-to-the-minute flavor that will redeem it from any reproach of tardiness.

But while they are about it, why do not our sisters postpone the publication of news for days rather than for hours? Why not print an annual at midnight on December 31? This would be the logical development of their plan to avoid being scopped, and would enable them to give the world's news for a year. But of course, no man can be expected to fathom their reasons for not doing it. They do not simply "because."

The Lord tempers the wind to the shorn lamb; but if the lamb were consulted he would prefer to have his wool and an untempered blast.

A St. Louis man reports that he has grown Sumatra wrappers for cigars in his back yard. Imagine they must taste a good deal like Japanese kimono.

King Leopold of Belgium doubts if he can visit the Fair, but will send some of his family. All right, we'll place them in the Belgian heir exhibit.

I SHALL NOT PASS AGAIN THIS WAY. By Convict, "Sine Sing 52,560." The bread that bringeth strength, I want to give.

The water pure that bids the thirsty live, I want to help the fainting day by day. I am sure I shall not pass again this way.

I want to give the oil of joy for tears, The faith to conquer crowding doubts and fears. Ready for ashes may I give away, I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.

I want to give good measure running o'er, And into angry hearts I want to pour. The answer soft that turneth wrath away; I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.

I want to give to others Hope and Faith; I want to do all that the Master saith; I want to live aright from day to day; I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.

—Sine Sing Star of Hope.

KENTUCKY ODD FACT. While working in his Kentucky tobacco patch Mr. Collet struck a lizard's nest. There were 16 eggs and he placed them in his trousers, intending to show them to the women folks and children at home. When he went to supper he forgot all about the eggs and, being fatigued from a hard day's work, retired early. The eggs remained in his trousers' pockets, and that night every one of them hatched. When Mr. Collet put his hand in his pocket there was something doing, and it was done quickly.

WHITE LINEN FOR STREET WEAR

A pair of attractive street frocks in white linen trimmed with black braid and hand embroidery.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS

Who Wears the Ring?

On account of certain mathematical calculations necessary to the performance of the trick not more than nine persons should take part in it. The performer sees that they are seated in a row, all facing one way, and then numbers them in order, from one to nine.

Producing a finger ring, or borrowing one from a member of the company, he tells them that he is going to leave the room and that while he is out some one must put on the ring, and when he returns he will tell them who wears the ring, which hand it is on, which finger of the hand and which joint of the finger.

The thumb counts as the first finger, the forefinger being the second, and so on. The joint nearest the end is called the first joint; the right hand is called 1 and the left hand 2.

When the performer returns to the room he asks one of the party to do a little multiplication and addition in order that the right result may be reached. To illustrate the process, let us assume that person No. 3 has the ring and that it is on the right hand, third finger, first joint. The performer requests that the following calculations be made in secret:

1. Double the number of the person who has the ring—in the case assumed this will produce..... 6
2. Add 5..... 11
3. Multiply by 5..... 55
4. Add 10..... 65
5. Add number denoting the hand, 1..... 66
6. Multiply by 10..... 660
7. Add number of the finger..... 663
8. Multiply by 10..... 6630
9. Add number of the joint, 1..... 6631
10. Add 35..... 6666

The person who has made the calculations now tells the performer the figures he gets after adding 35. Then the performer mentally subtracts 335 from that sum, no matter what it may be. In the present case the remainder is 231, which means that the person is No. 3, the hand No. 1, the finger No. 3 and the joint No. 1.

INDUCEMENT. Prospective Purchaser: What inducement do you offer if I should buy a dog? Canine Dealer: Why, lady, if you buy a dog I'll learn you how to whistle so you can call him.—Chicago News.

WORSE THAN DUNNING. Ned: I'm dreadfully worried about my debts. Jack: It must be very annoying to be continually dunned. Ned: O, hang the duns! What worries me is the fact that I can't get any more credit.—Stray Stories.

A PUZZLE PICTURE. When President Roosevelt deprecated race suicide he did not make a suggestion as to how the people with children were going to get homes to live in. Is it any wonder that the children of working people grow up disobedient, destructive, quarrelsome and have all kinds of diseases when they have to be housed and huddled together in tenement flats where the very air is polluted with all kinds of disease germs through bad drainage and garbage near the back door, breeding flies, rats and mice and all kinds of vermin?

Cardinal Manning of England (deceased), in lecturing before the Royal Society of Engineers, said in substance that "if you do not educate the masses they will be contented and submit implicitly to your will but if you educate them they will become discontented with their economic condition and demand their rights. As a result of the compulsory education laws the great bulk of the masses have at least a common school education; hence we are now living in the era of economic discontent, and the working class will never rest until they enjoy all the wealth they produce; we will then have houses fit to live in and our children will be enjoying life as nature decreed, as we will not then be refused by avaricious property owners."

John V. Stewart.

Dog Cure Wanted. To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: Will some of the readers of the Post-Dispatch please tell me what is the cure for mange? Or it might not be the mange—it is a sore on the dog's back, like a thick scab, all the hair being off on that place. Anyone who would please tell me what this is and the cure would greatly oblige.
